Dotando has been founded by Paolo Sansoni and Carlo Bertozzi, - born in the area of Ravenna, Italy - who did the military service in the Police Corps in 1987 and they are friends since then.

Paolo Sansoni, several years in software engineering, is a pioneer in tracking and management solutions. He realized the power of automatically collecting and associating data about who/ when/how/what it's doing to the GPS position of the asset or people, to provide customers with more security accurate data and analytics.

Carlo Bertozzi, with extensive experience in Product and Business Development in the security industry - in Cisa, Ingersoll-Rand, Allegion - believes that the Italian creativity is reflected into the power of DOTMobile to fulfill specific requirements and complexity of each application and unleash tremendous benefit to delight new customers around the world.

Dotando helps people and business in many industries to track, secure, control, manage and proactively maintain over 10,000 jetski, boats, yachts, vehicles, trucks, tractors, snowplows, salt spreaders, street sweepers, elderly or people with cognitive diseases, heavy equipment, field workers, cleaners, plumbers, HVAC technicians and electricians on move.
